

Virtual Construction

At Madison, we use Virtual Design + Construction as an integrated project delivery method. Our team, along with seasoned BIM professionals create virtual construction model that aid in identifying and addressing design issues before construction begins.

BIM allows us to closely coordinate building elements, provide MEP clash detection and identify quality control issues at the earliest stages, providing the opportunity to resolve challenges before they become costly mistakes.

-